What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 6 out of 7, which is the second-highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a high level, and poor market conditions are very likely to impact the capacity to pay you.

Financial, economic and political risks - Financial instruments are impacted by various factors, of which, without being exhaustive, the development of the financial market, the economic development of issuers who are themselves affected by the general world economic situation as well as economic and political conditions prevailing in each country.

Operational risk - material losses to the Sub-Fund may arise as a result of human error, system and/or process failures, inadequate procedures or controls.

Liquidity risk - the Sub-Fund may not always find another party willing to purchase an asset that the Sub-Fund wants to sell which could impact the Sub-Fund's ability to meet redemption requests on demand.
Derivatives risk - derivative instruments are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the underlying asset that they are based on. Certain derivatives may result in losses greater than the amount originally invested.
Counterparty risk - a party that the Sub-Fund transacts with may fail to meet its obligations which could cause losses.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.
